INT. AUDITORIUM - DAY

SUBBA RAJU is performing the "Navararasas" on stage. The auditorium is pretty empty but for seven eight people, with a seat occupied by a serious looking, middle-aged, salt-and-pepper bearded man, film director SHAM GOPAL VERMA.

He is watching intently. The camera tilts down to show that his hands are tied. The still silence of the SHAM GOPAL VERMA stops when he squirms some words out
